SENIOR WILLS

I, Jenny Almeida, will to the seniors and teachers that we meet again in the same place, West Rutland High School.

I, Mike Bills, will to my sister Nicole the best of luck with school; to my step-mother Dale my relaxed state of mind; to the class of '94 the best of luck with whatever they do; and last but not least, to Bonnie Burgess all my love and the best of luck with school.

I, Jason Cyr, will to Pat Loughan the ability to kick a soccer ball without using his toe; and to Van Allen the ability to laugh like Butthead.

I, James Fowler, will Pat Loughan to get around without me; to Matt the ability to stay with one girl; and to everybody else a good senior year.

I, Amy Geryk, will to Melissa Wozniak her own Kermey with license plate #INVHIM; to Beth Glodzik a pump room so she won't "excude" on her lower appendages; to Beth McDonald a new idol now that Bessie and I are gone; and to Meaghan and Leah great high school years ahead.

I, Marianne Goodrich, will to my sister Laura the ability to be herself and to be proud of her accomplishments in high school while mindful of the future; and to anyone who desires it, my ability to "work hard" whether on the court or in the classroom.

I, Megan Goodrich, will my personal hygiene to the people who need it!

I, Jason Hayes, will to Richard Cyr my driving ability.

I, Tony Higgins, will to Van Allen and Beth Glodzik my math ability; and to Kelly Wragg a key to her own house to sleep in her own bed.

I, Juli-Jo Jakubiak, will to Beth McDonald a good defensive softball team. God know's she needs one; to Stacey Hogan a state championship and the awesome #27. Take care of it; and to Mr. C. my pigeon. I've been carrying it long enough.

I, Valerie Jones, will to my sister Kimberly the ability to make it through the next nine years sane at least.

I, Carrie Lehman, will my ability to Kellie not to roll in mud puddles; and to Adam all my love.

I, Cy Loomis, will my great sense of direction to Pat. He needs it more than I do; to Matt my keen eye sight; to my brother Ned my academic excellence; and to my little brother Jesse my athletic ability.

I, Carrina Oberg, will my ability to smile and laugh off all blond jokes to all blonds that follow me; to Elizabeth my ability to ride horses and not fall off; to Nicky Oberg my carefree way of life; and to Dawn my ability to stay out of trouble.

I, Danny Perry, will to Andy Delong the ability to find his way home when going hunting; to Jason Bathalon the ability to not get hurt during basketball season; and to Jason Skaza and Pat L. the ability to tell the truth.

I, Rebecca Rogers, will Lindsay Smith her own car so she doesn't have to drive anyone else's; to Beth M. an insurance card in case she comes close to another telephone pole; to C.A. Vita the ability to get her running shoes on; and to Matt B. the ability to make it through another year.

I, Steve Salengo, will to Van Allen 100 episodes of the "Beavis and Butthead" show; to Chris DeLong and Jason Skaza the ability to tell good deer stories; and to Mr. Remington my entire Metallica collection.

I, Wendy Stewart, will to Marissa Garvey the ability to buy expensive candy and to be loud; to Kim Garvey the ability to put up with all the students and to stay in the right state of mind; to Mr. Remington the ability to put up with the students until he retires; and to anyone else the ability to cause trouble and not get caught.

I, Tim Sung, will to my sister Connie the best of luck in high school; and to Tony the ability to drive slowly.

I, Tracy Swan, will my ability to speak freely to my fellow classmates! I will my attitude to Bethany McDonald; and to the class of '94 seniors the best of luck in what ever they decide.

I, Brian Teer, will nothing.

I, Valrie Trepanier, will to Beth Glodzik my cheering spot and the ability to say no when called into work; to the junior girls on the varsity soccer team the ability to put up with soccer another year; to the varsity cheerleaders the ability to get what you want throughout the season; and to my brother Doug my ability to do well in academics and athletics and to have fun throughout high school as I have.

I, Keith Wortman, will to Lindsay Smith my car and my ability to drive such a vehicle; to Pat Laughan I leave all of my money and any other valuables; and to Peanut I leave my ability to lend money.

CLASS REUNION OF 2004

It is now 2004. The class of 1994 is attending their 10-year reunion in John Niemeyer's deep, dark desert cave in southern Mexico where he's a fugitive from the Mexican police and has been living in exile since he graduated from high school.

He is frequently visited by his roommate, Cy Loomis, who has been traveling the underground tunnels of Mexico as a professional investigator in order to pay for their mansion.

The first to arrive are Carrina Oberg and Wendy Stewart. Carrina now owns her own rodeo and ranch called Carrina's Corral. Wendy owns a Bronco dealership in Florida and still drives the same "83" red and maroon Bronco.

Next comes T-Bird and Becky who are happily married and have six children. The three boys want to follow in their father's steps and play for the Chicago Bulls. The three girls want to be professional cheerleaders for the Bulls. The young Fowler boys want to play against their father's best friend and highest paid player in the NBA, Michael Bills.

They all hear a rumble as Megan Goodrich and Tracy Swan arrive in their private jet. They both grew up to have a talk show called Warrior Women. The guests last week were Josh and Jason Hayes, the twins. They own their own logging and trucking company.

Then we hear screaming and the next to arrive are Juli-Jo Jakubiak and Jason Cyr. They've become arch rivals as the first female pitcher and the fastest male pitcher in the major leagues.

We see dust in the driveway as

Tony Higgins, the race car driver, drives up in the car in which he won the Indy 500.

Not long after, Brian Teer drops in with a parachute from the plane above. Brian is a sergeant in the Marines and is instructed to watch our next arrival, Josh Bean, who just came in from Columbia.

We hear a bell jingle as Danny Perry rides in on his favorite cow, Bessie. Danny now owns the largest farm in New England and supplies most of the milk for Amy Geryk's enterprising ice cream corporation.

We hear the sound of screaming children as Valerie Jones walks in with many of her clients. Valerie now owns a day care center called Valerie's Day Care. Valerie's head nurse is Carrie Lehman, who had three children with her old best friend Mike Firpo. Mike became an astronaut and is now living on the planet Eight Ball.

Jenny Almeida is in charge of the hired help while she translates John's orders to the Spanish employees.

The food is provided by "Sung's Succulent Sushi" and "Sabotka's Sub Specialties," Valrie's new sky rocketing business.

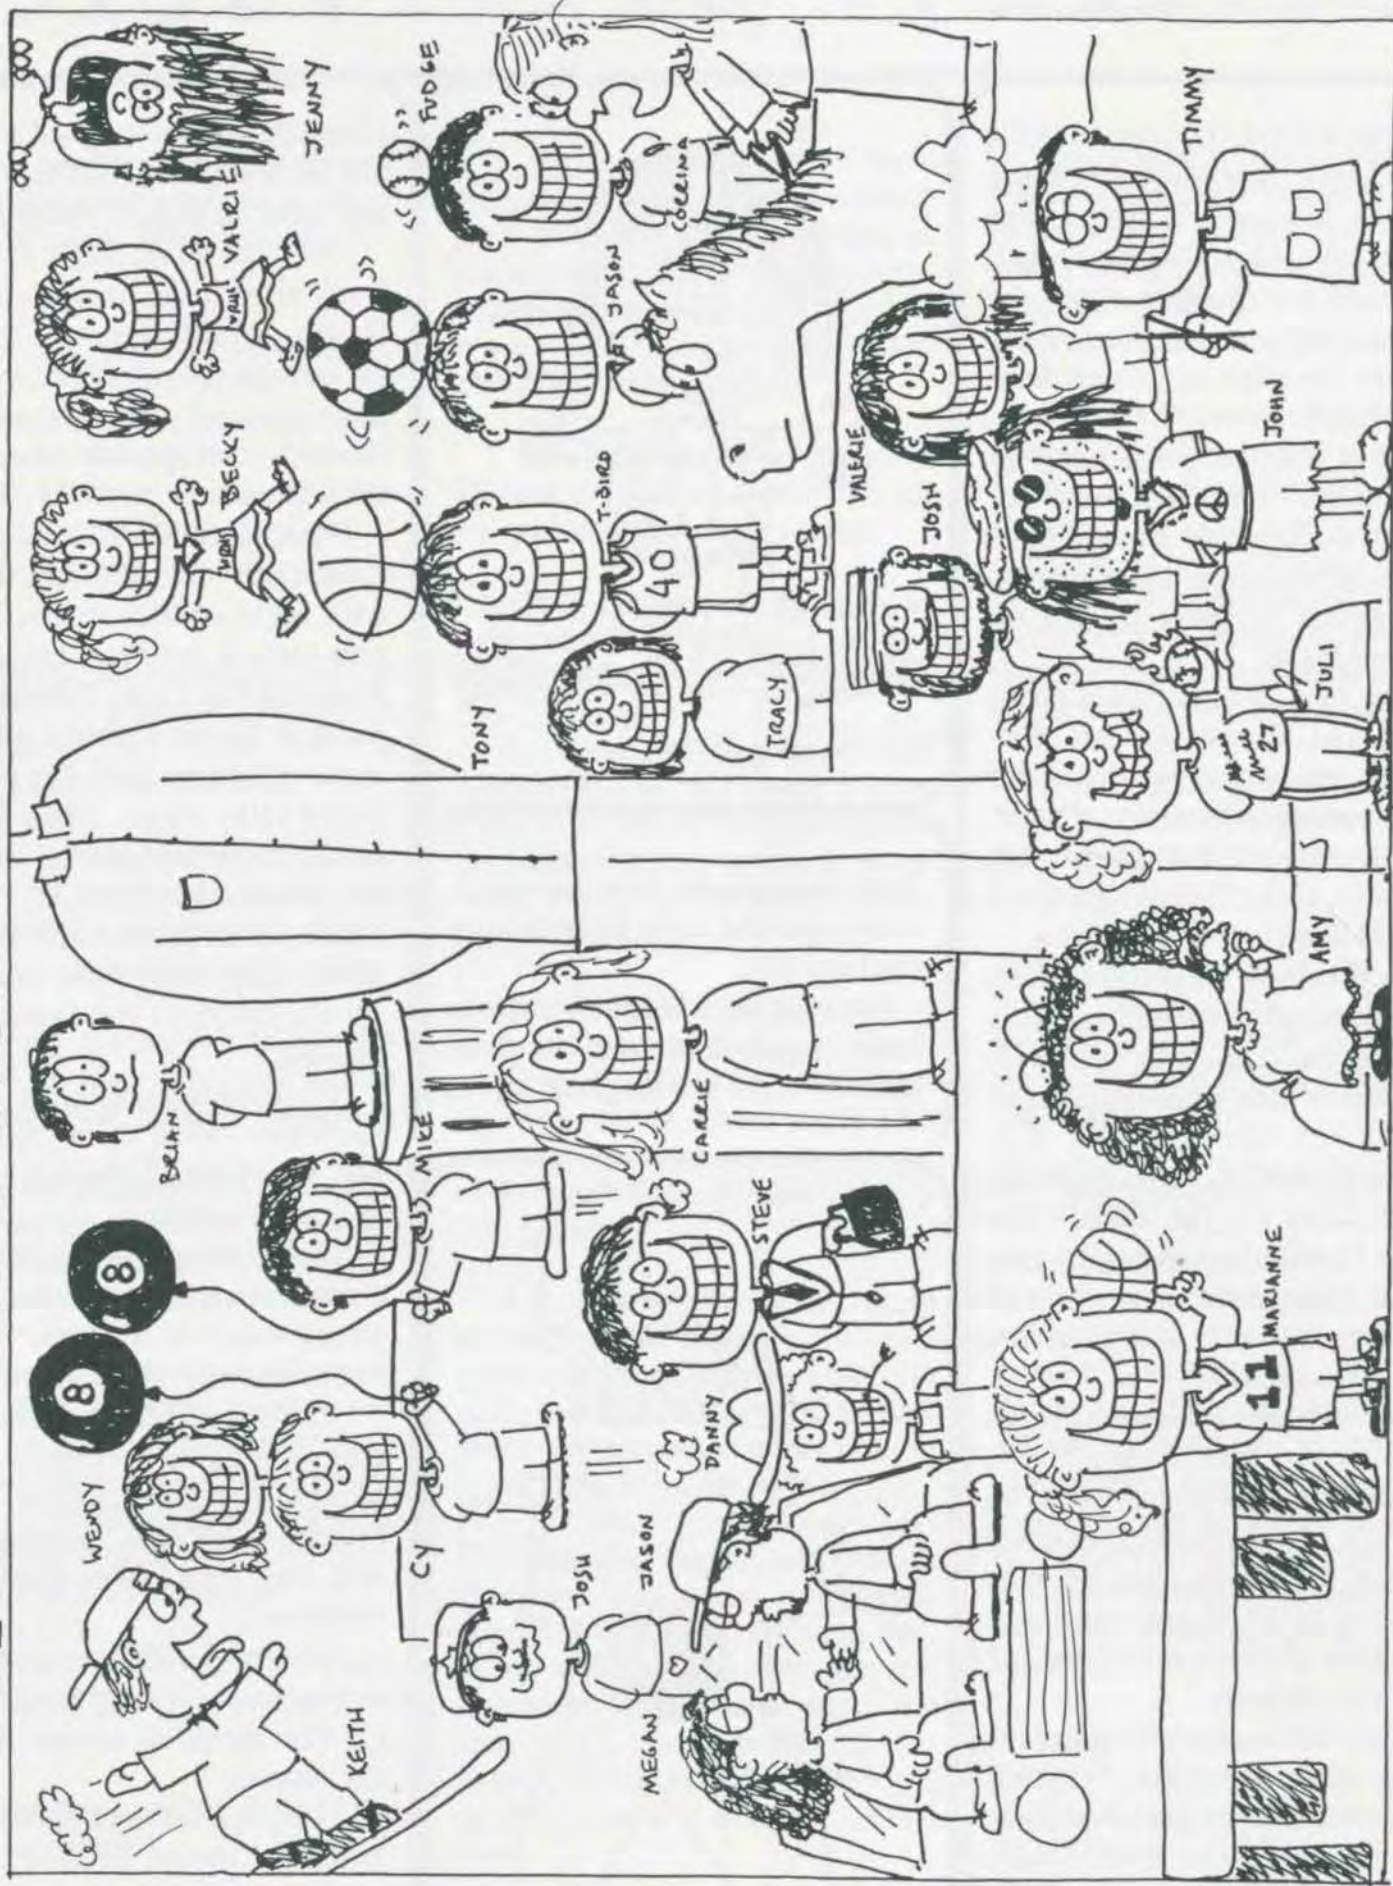

The next to arrive are Marianne Goodrich and Steve Salengo who joined together to form "Salengo and Goodrich" medical practice.

The last and final guest, late of course, is Keith Wortman. Keith became the head advisor for the Sports Illustrated Swimsuit Edition and almost slept through the reunion.

All is well at the reunion as the police come looking for John and Cy who narrowly escape through the tunnels.

Everyone ate well and had fun, looking forward to their 20-year reunion.

Juniors

Juniors Go Back In Time With Historic Heroes

PAT LOUGHAN, JR.: "If I could spend time with anyone, it would be Bob Marley. We'd go to Jamacia and hang out." (Guess he wants some of those positive vibrations. Ya, Mon!)

BETHANY GLODZIK: "I would go back in time and spend a day with Michael Jordan; I would marry him. I'd go anywhere with him." (Guess she wants to be the next slam dunk queen.)

CHRIS FLOOD: "I would spend the day with Marilyn Monroe." (We don't want to say what he'd do on the grounds that it may incriminate him!)

MATT BEAULIEU: "I would spend the day with Claudia Schiffer; we'd go to Amsterdam." (I think he wants to see the sights.)

SARAH MYLOTT: "I would spend a day with the ancient archaeologists so I could see them open the Egyptian tombs." (Uh, Okay.)

BONNIE BURGESS: "I would spend a day with Shaquille O'Neal. I would go to one of his games and watch him smash a backboard." (We never knew.)

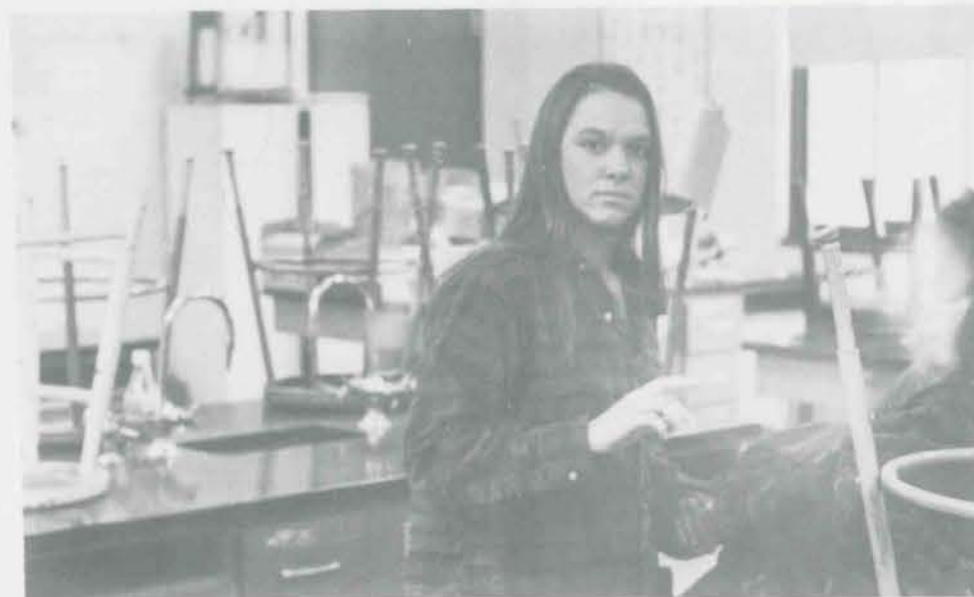

KRISTI GOULD: "I would spend the day with Tom Cruise. I would go anywhere he wanted to go." (Looks like she's up to some "Risky Business.")

MELISSA WOZNIAK: "I would spend the day with Janet Jackson. We would go to the Bahamas so that certain radio D.J.'s could envy me." (I guess that's the way love goes, huh?)

JASON SKAZA: "I would spend the day with all the super models in the world. Where we would go isn't the question. It's where we wouldn't go." (Enough said.)

SOPHOMORE CLASS. Lying down: Kyle Therrien. Front row sitting (left to right): Helen Brown, Jody Loomis, Marissa Garvey, Stacey Hogan, Robby Bidgood, Josh Pietryka, and Robert Jankowski. Second row sitting (left to right): Christina Brileya, Sarah Billings, Mary Kay McGann, and Tiffany Smith. Third row standing (left to right): Erik Grosso, B. J. Dydo, Van Allen, Sheryll Thornton, Stephanie Hewitt, Kelly Wragg, Chris DeLong, and Lindsay Smith. Back row standing (left to right): Amy Nartowicz, Paula Smith, Adam Burns, Mike Bissitte, Gary Sloan, Dawn Oberg, Angela Goepel, Megan Brogan, and Kristy Gilman.

SOPHOMORES

Sophomores Answer The Question: "Would Life Be Easier As A Member Of The Opposite Sex?"....Hmmm

MARISSA GARVEY: "I think it would be harder to be a guy because I feel it's a woman's world. We can get anything we want by making men feel sorry for us."

PAULA SMITH: "I don't think that I can judge being a male. I can't live life as a male; I'm too busy living my life as a female. I just have to work to make my life the best it can be."

STEPHANIE HEWITT: "Why bother trying to figure out if it's easier or harder to be a man? I'm still trying to figure out how to be myself."

SARAH BILLINGS: "It would be easier because we wouldn't have to deal with being thought of as a thing and not a person. It would be easier to get better jobs and to get paid better."

ROBBY BIDGOOD: "It would be easier as a woman because you wouldn't get picked on so much, and you wouldn't have to pay for dinner and movies. And if you need a ride, all you have to do is flirt a little with a guy."

LINDSAY SMITH: "Life would probably be a lot easier as a man. If you just think about it, guys have a much easier life all around."

SHERYLL THORNTON: "Being the opposite sex has its advantages. I wouldn't be discriminated against to do certain things. Its disadvantages are that I would have to deal with a lot more peer pressure and trying to impress others."

B. J. DYDO: "I believe that it would be easier on myself but harder on others around me because I would have a lot more to complain about."

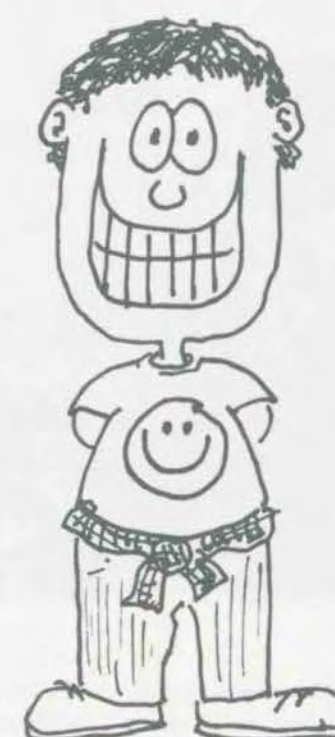

KELLY WRAGG: "I think it would be easier because guys have a lot less to worry about because not as much is expected of them."

The Freshmen

Recent Survey Tells The Fascinating Story Of How Freshmen Got Their Nicknames

GOLDEN. Brett Parker was messed up and dropped the phone, and Joe Stevens just called him "Golden."

DOUGHBOY. Joe Stevens got that name last year in gym class from Dave Werbinski.

MOO-MOO. Everyone at Jen Loso's house had barn yard nicknames, and Sara Notte's was "Moo-Moo."

GALBY. No one could pronounce Jennifer Galbicsek's name so they called her "Galby."

BLONDI. Certain people just started calling Melissa Muro that over the past summer. Can't imagine why!

BARBER AND TOOLS. Laura Barber gets called "Barber" because that is her last name, and Melissa Standley gets called "Tools" because of a company with a similar name.

WICKED. Jeff's friends back in Springfield gave it to him.

Team Was Led By MVL And All-State Selection, Jason Cyr

STRONG ASSET. Kyle Therrien provided much-needed aggressive defense this year, which helped keep W. R. in many games.

INTIMIDATOR. John Nartowicz used his aggressiveness to scare many opponents.

VERSATILE. This year Chad Fales provided both experience and ability in both goal and on the field.

BOY'S VARSITY SOCCER TEAM. Standing (left to right): Coach Tom Hyjek, Joe Stevens, Pat Loughan, Jr., Matt Beaulieu, Jason Cyr, Tom Fowler, John Nartowicz, Mike Bills, John Niemeyer, David Lavin, and Roger Healey. Kneeling (left to right): Adam Burns, Kyle Therrien, B. J. Dydo, Ryan Loso, Van Allen and Jody Loomis.

AGGRESSIVE PLAY. John Niemeyer was a standout on the team with his ability as a sweeper.

DETERMINATION. Jody Loomis worked hard and was a strong and valuable player.

ZONED OUT: A solid zone defense against an outstanding Green Mt. team resulted in a close victory for the Golden Horde.

SENIOR EXCELLENCE. Jason Cyr showed his outstanding shooting ability by draining 38 three pointers during the season. He also was the second leading scorer on the team as well as an all-around good player.

6 TIMES A CHARM. Senior Tom Fowler and Junior Pat Loughan have played together on teams six times during their careers. This has resulted in the ability to exhibit excellent team work.

"IF YOU'RE HAPPY AND YOU KNOW IT, CLAP YOUR HANDS." Senior Becky Rogers shows her leadership skills while leading the crowd during a pep rally.

FLYING HIGH! Through strength and courage the girls were able to perform safe and perfectly maneuvered stunts during the 1993-94 season.

GO! FIGHT! WIN! Cheerleaders welcome visiting teams with spirit and enthusiasm and wish them good luck.

"YOU GO GIRLS!"

When The Going Gets Tough, The Tough Get Going

ALL IN SYNC. The girls work hard to perfect all their cheers. Their results were nearly all perfect routines.

S-P-I-R-I-T. The squad was very dedicated to their cheering. Through long hours of practice in a very short period of time (two weeks) the girls brought home a fifth place award from the State Cheering Competition.

#1. Beth Glodzik psyches up the crowd during a close game. The fans and spectators were always eager to cheer with the girls in supporting the boys.

GREEN AND GOLD. West Rutland cheerleaders defy the laws of gravity. What goes up must come down!

thousands of pilots and commercial airline passengers around the world depend on our employees and their attention to quality in the aircraft engines they work to produce. It's the people who work at Rutland's GE who keep us on top. We're meeting and beating the competition because at GE Aircraft Engines today's challenge is tomorrow's achievement.

The West Rutland Fire Department
Congratulates the Class Of 1994

Congratulations to our favorite
Graduate:
JULI-JO JAKUBIAK

You've taught us games and read us stories.
We've seen you through your struggles and glories.
You've changed us, fed us, and rocked us too.
We've hoped each of your dreams came true.
You've held our hands and wiped our tears.
We've watched you grow and change each year.
Now you're going a new, exciting way.
The lessons you've taught us, we'll use each day.
You started as our sitter, our dear friend you became.
Wherever you go our love for you will stay the same.

You made it Juli!!
Love,
Kristen and Casey
Karen and Chris
